Dr. Dominguez has a Ph.D. in Education and will join the Chicano/a Studies faculty in the fall of 2017. His talk focuses on his current research project and addresses the relationship between learning, literacy, identity, and culture.

Constructing Latinidad in the Rural South: Youth Negotiations for Epistemic Space and Identity in New Diaspora Schools

By
Dr. Michael Domínguez

May 8, 2017
Arts and Letters 379
12:00-1:15 PM

Dr. Domínguez has a Ph.D. in Education and will join the Chicano/a Studies faculty in the fall of 2017. His talk focuses on his current research project and addresses the relationship between learning, literacy, identity, and culture.